A special 6-week program for elementary and secondary teachers of French and Spanish is conducted by Georgette L. Marchand, M.A., Associate Professor of Modern Languages, and Clarence Abello, B.Econ., Assistant Professor of Modern Languages. Emphasis is on these specialized areas:

1. METHODOLOGY: proper technique of developing proper language skills; application of psychology to language learning; principles of association, intuition and repetition; evaluation of modern audio-visual aids.

2. DIRECTED TEACHING: study of method by observation and personal practice; live classroom experience with children of secondary school ages (MWF) and of elementary school ages (T-Th).

3. IMPROVEMENT OF TEACHERS' LINGUISTICS: application of methods to improvement of grammatical habits and control over language: phonology, morphology, syntax and lexicology; conversation: intensive practice of phonetics, reading and diction; lunch-hour discussion.

PREREQUISITES: testimonial from school that applicant will teach the language applied for; two official transcripts of college training with evidence of B.A. degree or equivalent; evidence of proper background in the language applied for, preferably given through a private interview with Institute teachers; intention of limiting summer's academic program to the work of the Institute. The program lasts four hours each day. No auditors are allowed.

Costs: regular tuition, Registration: June 14. First day of class: June 15.

NATIONAL SCIENCE INSTITUTE

JUNE 14 — AUGUST 6

Seattle University, with the support of the National Science Foundation, will conduct an 8-week summer institute for high school teachers of science and mathematics. Subject areas: chemistry, physics, mathematics. Objectives of the institute are to deepen the scientific and mathematical knowledge of high school teachers, to strengthen their capacity to motivate qualified students, and to effect a closer liaison between high school and university teachers of science and mathematics.

To be eligible for stipends and allowances, an applicant must be a high school teacher of science or mathematics. A limited number of tuition scholarships will also be granted. Applications should be addressed to Rev. James J. Cowgill, S.J., Director of NSF Summer Institute, Seattle University, Seattle, Washington. For further details, see course entries set down in this publication, page 13.

NDEA INSTITUTES

MODERN AMERICAN HISTORY — Seattle University offers an 8-week graduate Institute in Modern American History to aid teachers in junior and senior high schools. Areas of special interest are domestic developments of modern America and the role of the United States as a world power. Workshop and seminar serve to coordinate professional experience and advice of faculty and scholars. Scholarships and stipends are available in accordance with provisions of the National Defense Education Act and to the extent of a $35,000 grant. Applications should be addressed to Charles R. Harmon, Assistant Director of History Institute, Seattle University, Seattle, Washington. Registration for the History Institute is June 14. Classes begin June 15 and continue through August 6, meeting daily from 11:00 to 5:00. Ten graduate credits may be earned.

THE TEACHING OF ENGLISH — Seattle University offers an 8-week graduate institute of value for junior and senior high school teachers of English. It is the aim of the institute to improve the teaching of English by reinvigorating scholarly habits, developing classroom skills, enriching academic backgrounds and preparation. Language, composition, and literature will be studied concurrently. The close interrelationship of these areas will be explored in an integrating seminar and will be converted to value for the classroom by practical workshop sessions. Scholarships and stipends are available in accordance with provisions of the National Defense Education Act and to the extent of a $41,139 grant.

Applications should be addressed to David A. Downes, Director of Institute for Teachers of English, Seattle University, Seattle, Washington. Registration for the institute is June 14. Classes begin June 15 and continue through August 6. Ten graduate credits may be earned.

19th CENTURY AMERICAN NOVEL

Hawthorne ... Melville ... Twain

This graduate seminar on three important writers of American Literature is limited to sixteen participants. Discussions on Mark Twain will be guided by Lewis A. Lawson, Ph.D., of the University of Maryland. The world of Hawthorne will be treated by Thomas J. McInerney, Ph.D., Associate Professor of English, who has done special advanced work on this figure. Richard A. Davison, Ph.D., will discuss the writings of Herman Melville.

Of special value for teachers of English and for English majors, the seminar will admit others only after approval of the Department Head.

Costs: regular tuition.

BIBLICAL INSTITUTE

Robert W. Gleason, S.J.
Aggiornamento in the Religious and Ascetical Life
June 28-July 9

David M. Stanley, S.J.
St. Paul: His Letters and Doctrinal Content
July 12-July 23

Two of North America's leading scholars direct a special four-week institute. Rev. Robert W. Gleason, S.J., S.T.D., noted author and lecturer, is Professor of Theology at Fordham University. Since his return to the United States from Rome in 1955, Father Gleason has published nine books in English. His books have been translated into many languages, and he is one of the American authors most read in Europe. During the summer of 1964, he lectured throughout Japan on Vatican Council II and its influence on religious and ascetical life. Rev. David M. Stanley, S.J., S.S.D., is Professor of New Testament Exegesis at Willowdale, Ontario. Prolific writer and outstanding lecturer, Father Stanley has become one of the leading Pauline scholars of the modern Church. His latest work, Christ's Resurrection in Pauline Soteriology, has been received with praise and enthusiasm in theological circles.

This Ascetical-Biblical Institute is offered for clergy, religious, and laity. (No special sessions will be offered exclusively for priests.)

KERYGMATIC ORIENTATIONS

HIGH SCHOOL RELIGION INSTITUTE

June 21-25 2:00-4:00 p.m.

Rev. Joseph A. Novak, S.J. Rev. John S. Nelson, S.J.

The five-day institute for teachers of high school religion will aim at refining objectives, advising in curriculum organization and giving orientation for biblical, liturgical and doctrinal catechesis. Although the workshop sessions will deal primarily with the subject matter covered in the Lord and King series, they should be helpful to all teachers of high school religion and CCD classes.

The Directors are authors of the third and fourth volumes of the Lord and King series, are actively associated with the Lumen Vitae in Brussels, with Munich's German Catechism Center and with the Paris Catholic Institute. Both are presently on the faculty of Fordham University where they are co-directors of the Religious Education Department.

The Institute in Kerygmatic Orientations will open at 2:00 p.m. on Monday, June 21, and will continue with daily sessions through Friday, June 25. Each meeting will consist of a one-hour lecture, followed by separate practical workshop sessions conducted by each of the directors.

Those planning to attend must apply by June 1 to the Director of the Summer Session. Admission fee is $15.00 for the week, $4.00 for an individual session. The Institute meets in William Pigott Auditorium. No academic credit will be given.

MIDDLE EAST TOUR

June 19 - July 22

Seattle University's fourth Middle East Tour offers unique opportunity to visit Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Turkey as well as Portugal, Greece and Italy. Highlighting the tour this year are excursions through pyramids near Cairo, several days in Jerusalem and environs to visit the Cave of the Nativity, the traditional room of the Last Supper, Calvary, and the museum of the Dead Sea Scrolls. Tourists will stop over in old Beirut, in Istanbul, Corinth, Athens, and Rome.

Flight departure from Seattle is scheduled for Saturday, June 19.

Directors accompanying the tour are Rev. James W. King, S.J., Assistant Professor of Theology, and Rev. Francis X. Bisciglia, S.J., Associate Professor of Classical Languages at Seattle University.

Travel arrangements are made through Mary North Travel Service, Inc., 3701 S.W. Alaska Street, Seattle, Washington 98126. Phone WE 5-3404. Cost from Seattle: $1,997.80, with 10 per cent down and 24 months to pay.

EUROPEAN TOUR

June 19 - August 3

46 days

10 countries

$1,759.00

Leave Seattle by Pan American jet on Saturday, June 19, to enjoy this once-in-a-lifetime trip through Spain, Italy, France, Germany, Switzerland, England, and other western European countries. Experience the thrill of seeing the Prado, the Vatican, the Rialto, Lake Lucerne, Versailles, Chartres. Visit Lourdes, Lisieux, Notre Dame, Westminster, Stratford-on-Avon. Wander through El Escorial, about Montmartre, through Pompeii or old Roman catacombs, view the Brandenburg Gate or cruise down the loveliest part of the Rhine. With 10 countries and 46 days and a thousand delightful memories, board the London jet for home on August 3.

Director of this ninth annual European Tour is Rev. Gerard M. Evoy, S.J., Seattle University's Vice President for University Relations.

Travel arrangements are made through Mary North Travel Service, Inc., 3701 S.W. Alaska Street, Seattle, Washington 98126. Phone WE 5-3404. Cost from Seattle: $1,759.00, with 10 per cent down and 24 months to pay.
